Key Takeaways:

- "Confrontation" is Good
- At least 1 communication bad habit identified (and maybe converted to a good habit)
- Perfection Is In The Imperfection

Are you feeling misunderstood?

Do you get different reactions to what you say and email/texts you send than what you wanted?

Are you hesitating to have that hard discussion because you don't know how it will turn out?

Do you wonder why people don't seem to listen to you?

I speak to...audiences that are curious about taking their communication style to the next level, don't want to settle for mediocre relationships, personally or in business, are interested in getting more of what they want out of life.
